

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT STATEMENT

Environment protection and wellbeing of nature is one of the main principles of CIVCONS DESIGN. Our company understand the risks and what impact the action of its members can have over the environment. We encourage all of our employees, partners, customers and associates to carry out business without disturbing the natural environment and furthermore to raise its quality and protect it.

One of the few laws that we are guided of is Environment Protection Act 1974. By following the regulations of the UK, we are standing along with all the organisations that see what influence construction actions can have on natural surroundings and try to minimise it.

It is within CIVCONS DESIGN' mission to:

- Minimise the extent of environmental damage within the company's sphere of action;
- Conserve and reduce any waste of energy by maximising efficiency and by cutting unimportant consumption;
- Develop procedures to increase the quality of environmental protection and set targets to do so;
- Inform and provide resources of training for every of our employees to enable an efficient system in order to raise awareness on environmental issues;
- Encourage through awards the contribution of CIVCONS DESIGN' members towards improving environmental performance;
- Monitor and make improvements where possible on environmental managing system of the company.

By these steps we engage actively in seeking to develop systems in protecting our natural surroundings. We acknowledge that we have an important role in facilitating sustainability of environment in our business activities, and we set targets in doing so. We seek to continually improve our ways of looking at conserving the environment.

We encourage open discussion within our community of employees, associates, customers and partners, and we are taking into account every new idea that it is brought to our attention, and after looking into it we try to make it functionable if reasonably possible.

This Statement is proved by CIVCONS DESIGN' Executive Board and its Director, and it is in tight connection with our Code of Conduit, and current UK laws.
